Essential skills for today’s marketers

What digital marketing training will do for you

Digital Training Academy
2009

There is a vast skills gap in the media and marketing industries. It’s holding individuals and companies back. Online can be tough; impenetrable language, constantly changing technologies or suppliers, unclear business process and evolving models for trading. And the pace means that even if you were up to speed six months ago the game will have moved on. That’s why media owners, agencies and brands asked us to set up a programme of highly focused digital training that helps firms get exactly the skills they need, right now. The Digital Training Academy has been delivered in more than thirty countries, helping thousands of marketers boost their performance. World class, business focussed, leading edge training to help transform the value agencies and brands get from digital marketing.

Digital marketing is now the heart of marketing. Every firm has a web presence, email relationship programmes and an enthusiasm for social media, but how effective are they? Are these tools really driving sales as hard as they could? Are they building customer loyalty to keep people coming back? Are they giving clear, strong financial returns on all the time and money invested?

Sadly most digital marketing does little more than scratch the surface of what’s possible. Most websites attract only a trickle of traffic, most emails go unopened, most web adverts blend into the background, most social media campaigns fail to attract attention. Customers have limitless information and the tools to make ever-smarter decisions about who they buy from. They’ve taken ruthless control of their attention and screen out messages that don’t engage. Marketing today has to work much harder, and while digital channels have the potential to achieve this, in most cases they fail to deliver.

The cause is simple. Teams lack the essential skills they need. Digital marketing remains a new and rapidly evolving skillset, but one that most brands – and many agencies – don’t have at the level needed. Without the right skills all of the efforts on the web, email, social media and mobile can be completely wasted. The briefings to agencies and technologists becomes weak and the results disjointed.

Customised digital marketing training delivers exactly what firms need, today.

The Digital Training Academy delivers world class digital marketing and publishing programmes that transform the capabilities of teams. Each Academy programme is designed around the specific business challenges a firm faces and the specific needs of their team members.

What makes our coaching approach and these Digital Training Academies so effective?

“Digital marketing is the essential skills set for today’s marketer. Firms can’t create and apply the right digital strategy without teams who have the skills to evaluate and deliver. Yet this situation remains the norm. The rewards for getting online marketing, social media, and digital strategies right are the transformation of sales, branding and customer relationships. But while the rewards are great, the risks are greater – that’s why most digital strategies deliver only a fraction of their potential. The crisis in skills affects agencies and brands large and small and that’s why training is the smartest, fastest solution.”
Training works for newcomers and old hands

Training unlocks people’s potential. It enables those new to the industry with the knowledge and skills to participate, and coaches those with experience to become even stronger and more effective. It can have the greatest return of any investment a firm makes because it fundamentally changes how their teams perform in everything they do. In digital marketing there is a skills crisis. Many executives struggle with the jargon, the processes and the business objectives. They may have been excellent in their roles until now, but digital channels arrived suddenly, constantly change, and make new demands. For those experienced in the industry, digital marketing coaching can improve their performance, helping them tackle more advanced challenges and create smarter solutions.

Coaching your team empowers them

We work with your whole team to tackle the current priorities in the business. Their Digital Training Academy will empower them to deliver smarter solutions and work more effectively as a team to solve the digital challenges ahead.

Practitioner-led training to share experience

Rather than using academics, we focus on practitioner-led training. This fuses hands-on expertise with deep sector knowledge. Our instructional designers ensure there is clear knowledge transfer and tutors are constantly reviewed to ensure their performance matches client needs.

Expert coaching

All our tutors have at least ten years experience in digital marketing. They can teach way beyond the level of each Academy and actively share their experiences from many sectors and many countries. It’s a way of bringing outside thinking into your business and helping your teams learn new ways to solve their current challenges. Our guest lecturers will be similarly well qualified, and have further specialist skills; deep understanding of niche aspects of the industry. Training is the difference between good performance and great performance. In a young industry it’s all the more important and is needed at every level.

Digital training unlocks the potential of your team, instantly boosting the effectiveness of everything they do. It’s the catalyst that triggers a step-change in the results you get from your websites, email and social media.
Passionate about digital; expert in training

Being leaders in the digital industry is not enough to guarantee effective training. Go to a conference and you’ll hear speech after speech from industry leaders, but how much of it will you remember the next month? How much of it will you apply? Our instructional designers have unlocked the right formula for devising training that changes the way teams behave.

We use sophisticated consultancy techniques to ensure knowledge is transferred and that the learning sticks. During our Digital Training Academies we move learners around the learning cycle, examining theory, trying things out, reflecting on the experience and drawing conclusions. All learners are equipped with action logs and coached to convert what the course covers into tasks to complete in-company afterwards.

Four levels

Each Digital Training Academy can be delivered at these levels:
1. Conversion (those relatively new to the sector)
2. Acceleration (those with 1-2 years experience)
3. Advanced (those with 2-5 years experience)
4. Masterclass (executive coaching)

Academy lengths

All Academies are combined with online learning support and can be structured around the following amount of face to face training time:
- One day
- Two day
- Three - five day residential
  We also run short executive briefings for leadership teams.

Auditing the skills of your team

To help design the right course for you we start by conducting a skills check for your team, a detailed training needs assessment that examines the specific challenges they face.
In-company training and strategy workshops

In-company training has a deep impact on your business. That’s why we want to know what matters most to you and your team?

- Low rankings in search engines?
- Website not delivering enough leads?
- Email and social media not building real relationships?
- Consumer generated content not growing on the website?
- Could you be getting more value from your agency?

These are typical of the sort of challenges we would tackle head-on in your Academy. The customised programme focuses on today’s business goals. We’ll show the solutions and coach your team on the knowledge and skills they need to make them happen.

There’s also a wealth of ways we can unlock further value through turning general training workshops into critical issue workshops, using training exercises as a way of building operational plans for your teams, and using our feedback as a way of feeding into your existing business plans. Some HR directors apply our training as a way to boost the continuing professional development of their teams, while others have used the learning logs that all participants complete as a way to augment the existing staff appraisal structure. Several Academies can be combined to create a complete training programme for re-orientating your business, motivating your team and underlying your firm’s commitment to the digital challenge.

Empowering marketing teams to leap forwards; unlocking more value from their existing investments.

Why bespoke in-company programmes work best

☑ You can train the entire team cost efficiently
☑ The training process unites the team in their goals
☑ Train a wider group; including people your team work with so they understand digital better
☑ The confidential setting of in-house training enables you to get the most out of your session as:
  o Exercises are customised to real business challenges
  o Training is focused around your specific brands
  o You can address internal strategic challenges
  o All participants can work together to solve problems
Building strategies for digital brands

Marketing is changing on a scale we’ve never seen before, and within a timeframe most can barely assimilate. The changes are so vast that many businesses feel like rabbits caught in the headlamps. The internet has suddenly become the critical communications tool for everything from shopping to healthcare, messaging to research, watching TV to listening to music. It’s created new frameworks for social relationships and a new landscape for trade.

For the brands that get it right new markets are unlocked with new ways to reach out to strangers, turn strangers into friends and friends into customers. Market shares are on the move and the balance of customer communications is suddenly being rebuilt. All this in a globalized economic structure that means the opportunities and threats have never been greater.

Against a background of media saturation, audience fragmentation, and marketing scepticism, these forces combine to challenge not just the choice of channels, but the strategic marketing models and the whole process that surrounds them.

These are the issues we tackle head-on in your Digital Training Academy.

Jargon Busting
www.DigitalJargonBuster.org
Always a popular module on our courses. We don’t just explain the meaning, we explore the context until the learners are confident they can explain it to their colleagues.
We created www.DigitalJargonBuster.org to provide Academy Graduates with further support and launched a Jargon Busting campaign to take things further.

Online Classroom: Managing your learning
To help participants manage their learning we create a simple password-protected learning resource space on the DigitalTrainingAcademy.com website. This includes lessons you can take part in before and after the face to face parts of your Digital Training Academy. This helps you manage your learning and get more from your training with us.

Capturing your ideas
In many Digital Training Academies, we act as facilitators to help you devise more robust digital strategies. As part of our courses we capture these ideas, and channel all the energy of the training sessions into knowledge you can use back in the workplace.
